

November 5, 2009

Contact: Ashka Naik, Program Manager, Advancing Green Building Initiative
617-722-0036 (Ext-209), fellowships@secondnature.org

2010 Kresge Fellowship Program Launched

*Fellowship to be Awarded to 25 Under-resourced Colleges and Universities
Deadline for Application: March 15, 2010*

Fellowship Program:

The Kresge Fellowship Program within the Advancing Green Building in Higher Education Initiative will provide free registration, accommodations, and travel expenses (up to $2000/fellow) for fellows to attend one national green building-related conference. As part of the program, Second Nature will award fellowships to 25 university executives who will learn the skills and technical information they need to be effective champions for green building at their own under-resourced campuses. (In total 40 fellowships will be awarded within this program, with 15 awarded in 2009.)

Eligibility:

Schools that have received Title III/V designation from the Department of Education are invited to apply. Senior Managers of colleges and university including campus planners, facilities directors, or vice presidents of finance and business are eligible for the fellowships through which they will take part in learning and networking opportunities, such as the Advancement of Sustainability in Higher Education \(AASHE\) Conference 2010 and U.S. Green Building Council's Greenbuild Conference 2010.

Timeline:

In 2010, Second Nature will be awarding fellowships to 25 under-resourced institutions. The application deadline for this program is March 15, 2010. Final decision will be announced on April 15, 2010.

Application Form:

Kresge Fellowship Application Form 2010 – For Type
Kresge Fellowship Application Form 2010 – For Print

Program Guidelines:

Kresge Fellowship Program 2010 – Guidelines

For more information on the Kresge Fellowship Program, please click HERE.